

Topic- Lecture programme on Commercial Fishery and Employment Opportunities in Assam

Date- 16/12/2021

---

Department of Commerce along with Department of Economics organised a lecture programme on 16/12/2021 as a part of golden jubilee celebration on the topic “ Commercial Fishery and Employment Opportunities in Assam”. The Resource person for the same was Jyotismita Thakuria who is a junior scientist in Livestock Research Station, Assam Agricultural University, Mondira, Kamrup. She is an expert in Livestock farming and has a vast knowledge about how to turn the livestock farming to a business proposition. The programme was done completely through power point presentation which showed the students the various aspects of commercial fishery and how it is still an untapped industry. After the lecture a question answer session was conducted which benefitted the interested students as their queries were answered instantly. There were total 160 participants and the programme was smoothly coordinated by the faculty members of both the department.

