

Teachers' Day Celebration Enlivens Department of Economics, B.P. Chaliha College

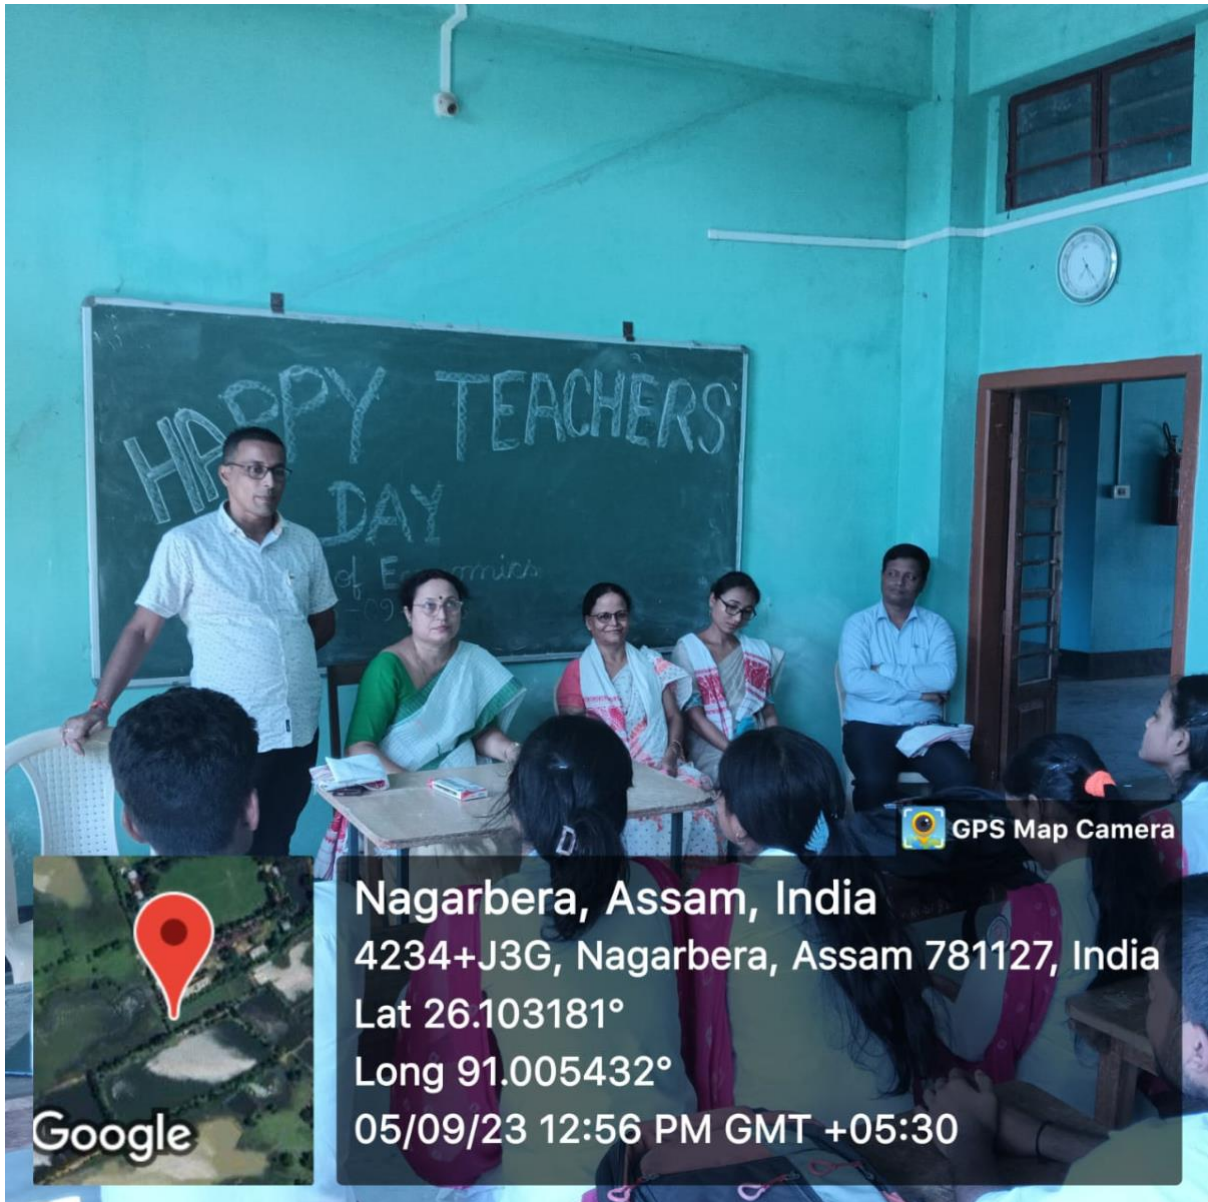

In a jubilant display of appreciation and camaraderie, the Department of Economics at B.P. Chaliha College celebrated Teachers' Day with fervour and enthusiasm. The event, held on September 5th, brought together faculty, staff, and students to honor the dedicated educators who tirelessly contribute to the academic and personal development of the college community.

The celebration commenced in the department of Economics, where students paid homage to their teachers through various artistic performances, heartfelt speeches, and creative presentations.

Dr. Alaka Hujuri, Head of the Department of Economics, delivered a poignant address, expressing heartfelt gratitude to the faculty for their unwavering dedication and commitment to nurturing the next generation of leaders and thinkers. She emphasized the pivotal role teachers play in shaping the intellectual and moral fabric of society, urging students to cherish and honor their mentors' invaluable guidance and wisdom.

In a symbolic gesture of appreciation, students presented handmade cards, flowers, and tokens of gratitude to their teachers, expressing heartfelt messages of admiration and respect. The gesture was met with smiles and heartfelt thanks from the faculty, further strengthening the bonds of mutual respect and admiration.

The Teachers' Day celebration at B.P. Chaliha College served as a heartwarming tribute to the dedication, passion, and unwavering commitment of its esteemed faculty. As the college community continues to strive for excellence in education, the bonds forged between teachers and students will remain a cornerstone of its academic ethos.
