Dr. Korbam Ali Ahmed, Associate professor and HOD, department of Arabic of the college, conducted the Seminar, while Dr. Korbam Ali Ahmed, Associate professor of the department of Arabic, attended it as the resource person. Dr. K. Ali Ahmed elaborately discussed the various problems arising in connection with the teaching Arabic in Assam. He said that due to the paucity of required books, reference books, journal and the relevant materials, the teachers of Arabic learning are to face problems in classroom teaching. Further there is no training system for the Arabic teacher like other teacher training institution in Assam.

In this regard Dr. K. Ali Ahmed said that the university authority along with Arabic department should take special initiative to bring out periodicals, journals in Arabic to provide more scope to student for the greater development of their knowledge of Arabic. It has been discussed in the seminar that the responsibility for improving the condition of Arabic language in Assam lies with the university, the state Government, teachers and academicians. Through this paper all the right thinking scholars and thinkers are called to put their heads together to bring glory and rightful place to this language and literature.

At the end of the seminar the Chairperson offered his thanks to the participants through his speech and concluded the seminar.
